- * Please note that this advice will result in the initial water accounts being issued to the occupant, in lieu of the owner.
- * Responsibility for payment will still rest with the owner in the event that payment is not provided by the due date as specified on the account. Should this occur, then any overdue notices will be issued to the owner.
- * The establishment of this arrangement will result in both the owner and the occupant being privy to account information.
- * Prior to establishing a third party account, Gippsland Water will require any outstanding balances to be paid.
